Presented by:

Harry Melvin

Enviro-Tech Termite and Pest Control

Harry Melvin, a 30 year Illinois Department of Public Health License holder, earned his Master's Degree in Political Science from Murray State University. After graduating, Melvin began working for Orkin in 1980 where he was employed for the next nine years training technicians and serving as a sales manager.

In 1999 Melvin joined the staff of, Southern Illinois based pest control company, Envirotech which specializes in the eradication of termites and other pests. In 2007, Melvin shifted to specializing in bed bug abatement, an area of pest control that has grown in recent years.

In 2015 and 2016 alone, bed bug sales and service fees accounted for $462,000 and $626,000 of Envirotech's revenue, respectively. Melvin is happy to be speaking to the members of Code Enforcement Officials of Southern Illinois to share his expertise.
